The reason advanced by the CNR for not building an extension to the Macdonald is a poor one. Why this is so is explained on the editorial page. See Page 4.

EDMONTONIANS GET TWO-GUN WELCOME

ABOARD THE FRIENDSHIP TRAIN, GRANDE PRAIRIE, Sept. 30.—Ever off a train in what is believed to be almost pioneer country into the clutches of a typical movie desperado? Several members of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce aboard the Friendship Train did Wednesday, but it turned out the situation wasn't so bad after all, the "welcoming party" headed by "Two Gun" Art Menzies consisted merely of representatives of the Smith Board of Trade, growing fine crops of chin spinach for their annual frontier nights to be held Oct. 22 and 23.

Tory Leadership Fight Seen Bitter

Terrific Struggle Likely Between Drew, Diefenbaker

By Wm. "Spot" Murphy
Bulletin Staff Reporter

OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—Col. George Drew will be the next leader of the Progressive Conservative party, but only after a terrific struggle against John Diefenbaker, M.P. for Lake Centre.

A terrific campaign is being waged for the Saskatchewan election, and the surprising factor in the battle is the support being accorded the westerner by hard-shell Ontario delegates.

He will get some votes from the Quebec delegation, with Donald Fleming, M.P. for Toronto-Eglinton, capturing a large share of the Ontario delegates.

Canada May Have

Atom Bombs, Too

PARIS, Sept. 30.—(U.P.)—The Western Powers warned today that the United States alone has enough atomic bombs to wage atomic war and appealed to the United Nations assembly to induce Russia for blocking international control of atomic weapons.

The United States joined Canada in asking the General Assembly's "judgment" of the American plan for international control of atomic weapons, and Russia's objections to it. The United States offer stands, the Americans announced.

The UN Assembly's political committee opened debate on the unsuccessful two years of effort by the Atomic Energy Commission to devise a control system. The United States and Canada took the lead when the assembly began.

Amid the UN debate on atom bombs and on the eve of debate on the Berlin crisis, the French Communist party issued a sensational statement which accomplished its purpose of "inciting" of another war from putting "their criminal plans into effect."

The people of France will not, and never will, go to war against the Soviet Union, it declared.

The Communist statement, denouncing the "imperialist" war, and served notice that the people of France could prevent the outbreak of an "imperialist" war. It pledged the French Communist party to do everything it could to prevent the "incitation" of another war from putting "their criminal plans into effect."

Calm courage of a stout-hearted American schoolboy has won out against the tragic setting of a northland plane crash.

In University Hospital here today is 11-year-old Michael Lintner of Anchorage, Alaska who spent a dread 42 hours beside the body of his mother, killed in the crash of a light Stinson aircraft 65 miles west of Fort Nelson Monday night.

Young Lintner was rescued early Wednesday by RCAF searchers and flown to hospital here in an Air Force Dakota Wednesday night.

Suffering from severe skull fracture, broken right arm, frost-bitten feet and shock the boy's condition was termed "surprisingly good" by the attending doctor this morning.

It is believed that the child has a good chance of recovery. Dr. G. Morton, physician in charge of young Lintner at the University hospital, told The Bulletin: "The boy's condition is surprisingly good considering all he has been through."

Mrs. A. L. Lintner, mother of the injured boy, is thought to have been instantly killed when the plane she was piloting struck the 3,000-foot peak of Steamboat mountain on a 25-mile flight from Watson Lake to Fort Nelson.

Weather was stormy at the time of the crash with poor visibility. Crash occurred shortly after 6 p.m.

University officials here stated.

Carried on a stretcher from the plane to a stretcher RCAF ambulance, young Michael did not lose consciousness at arrival here but was still conscious.

Members of the RCAF rescue crew were pulled to the injured child from the plane wreckage, marvelled at the bravery of the boy when asked about it.

"He called out a clear 'hello' when we reached the wreck and has been quite cheerful ever since despite his painful injuries," an airman in the rescue party told newsmen.

In addition to being pinned beneath the plane wreckage, young Lintner was also trapped because of numerous trees pressing against the cockpit.

The plane had no radio.

The Lintner boy's rescuers were both armed and filled with admiration at the courage of the lad.

NO SIGNIFICANT DATA IN PEARY PARTY NOTES

OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—(CP)—The government today said the Peary expedition notes carried in the Arctic in 1939 and 1940 by explorer Sir George Nares and Admiral Robert E. Peary.

The notes were found this summer in a cairn near Cape Sheridan, on the north coast of Ellesmere Island by Canadian and American who sailed to the Arctic to supply joint weather stations in the far north.

Neither note contained data of any great significance.

The one signed by Sir George Nares told of the death of two members of his 1939-40 expedition to the Arctic.

That expedition sailed north to Cape Sheridan and Greenland to the people of Quebec.

Teachers who registered draw full pay during the two-day period at the convention.

Teachers began leaving the hall after the convention session began in the main auditorium.

The auditorium accommodates approximately 500 persons, and was almost filled for the address of Dr. J. W. Mauser, Dean of Education, Montana University.

About half left the building when Dr. Mauser's address ended.

Registration, according to the official program was to be made between 9 and 9:30 today, but convention officials were still accepting them at 11 a.m.

Halls were crowded for at least an hour after the convention session began in the main auditorium.

Youth Gets Jail Term

A South Edmonton youth was sentenced to one year of hard labor at Fort Saskatchewan jail by Magistrate A. L. Miller today.

After pleading guilty to two charges of shopbreaking, one of possession of stolen property, and one of carrying an offensive weapon, Stephen P. Melnick, South Edmonton, received penalties on each count.

He was given one year each for the shopbreaking charges, and three months each for carrying an offensive weapon and possession of stolen property. Sentences are to run concurrently.

Melnick was apprehended September 23 when he was recognized by police as having a jacket known to be stolen. Upon search he was found to have a knife concealed beneath his clothing, and in subsequent questioning he admitted participating in a shopbreaking raid on local cleaning establishments in January and February of this year.

Two accomplices in the break-in have already been convicted and are serving time in Fort Saskatchewan.

Engineer Sees More Diesel Power Here

Diesel electric switch engines will likely become more common in the west in coming years and diesel power in general is also on the increase.

These were observations of R. R. Thomson, service engineer, railway sales department, Imperial Oil Ltd., an Edmonton business visitor.

Mr. Thomson is making a routine tour of the west conferring with railway officials on requirements for fuel oil.

He recently attended a school of instruction in diesel electric power, conducted by American Locomotive Co. in Schenectady, N.Y.

Pointing out that American Locomotive Co. has stopped building steam locomotives, Mr. Thomson said that diesel electric power will soon be used almost exclusively by the railway on Vancouver Island.

BEST WISHES for SUCCESS!

ON SPORT

By STAN MOHER, Editor

A Jockey and his Judge

Vignette . . . the first.

Judge George Washington Schilling hated to do it. But there seemed to way out, even had he been disposed to look for one. The young rider, one Fred Brown, was called to the stand, accused of using a battery on his mount.

He didn't deny the charge. There was only one thing to do then. "Set down indefinitely," was the gist of Schilling's ruling released to the Winnipeg press that night. A promising rider had been deprived of his best means of livelihood. Once again a "joint"—as a battery is known around the barns—had gotten a boy into deep trouble.

That was that.

A few years later Judge Schilling was the presiding steward at old Tia Juana.

Early of a certain morning he was at the track. Suddenly he started to cross the racing strip to the infield, all the time deeply engrossed in a newspaper and quite unaware that one of the horses, out for a workout, was thundering rapidly down on him.

Serious injury, possible death, was just a few feet away. Still the presiding steward kept his course. Just in time the boy on the horse spotted the man with his nose in the newspaper. He had no time to take up, or swing wide around. At risk of his own life he pulled down on the reins to the left to send his mount crashing through the fence.

About this time Schilling awakened belatedly to his peril. He took in the situation quite as rushed to the side of the boy now sprawled unconscious on the ground. When the Judge turned the stricken rider over he found himself peering into the face of—Fred Brown.

In time Brown recovered. Shortly thereafter, on the urging of Judge George Schilling, the suspension imposed so many years before was lifted.

No $50,000 Lemon, This

Vignette . . . the second.

It was one chore for which manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians had little stomach . . . this business of having to acquaint the young fellow with the fact that he was being farmed out for more seasoning.

He remembered the rookie's earnest if unsuccessful efforts to make the grade at this base. A good hitter, he had 10 thumbs and no fingers when it came to tracking down errant ground balls or going back on the grass for high pop-ups.

Then a whirl in centre field. The same thing, even though one day he made a sensational catch of a hard liner to save a no-hitter for his great teammate, Bob Feller. Between times he even looked around at plucking, serving them up for hitting practice, experimenting with this pitch and that. There was no doubting he had a strong arm.

So it was that after a few weeks of the 1947 season Boudreau had made up his mind. Just before the start of a night game in June he went to the young fellow. "We're sending you to Baltimore tomorrow," he told him. "Keep plugging away. You'll make an outfielder yet."

Then the game was underway.

It wasn't the Indians' day. Shortly they were getting their lumps as first the starting pitcher and then a pair of successors failed to muzzle the opposition hitters. Next they were well out of it and in desperation Boudreau looked about him on the bench for a fall-guy hurler to go the rest of the way.

His eyes lit on the Baltimore-bound rookie, sitting way down at the far end of the dugout, a picture of dejection. The Cleveland manager remembered how he seemed to have a hankering after mound work. What was there to lose?

"Get in there," he told the astonished boy.

So the boy 'got in there.' He looked promising, far more so than ever he had as a third baseman or outfielder. All thoughts of shipping him away were forgotten.

Today—15 months later—Bob Lemon is generally regarded as close to the best right-handed in the American League.

Montrealers Reach Little World Series

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Sept. 30.—(CP)—Montreal Royals qualified for the Little World Series for the third time in seven years Wednesday night by overwhelming Syracuse Chiefs 7-3 in the fifth game of their best-of-seven inter-league final playoff.

It was Montreal's third straight victory and gave the club a league champs the series, four games to one.

The Royals, who played in the Little World Series in 1941 and 1946, now will meet the winner of the American Association's final playoffs between Columbus Red Birds and St. Paul Saints. The Saints, like the Royals a farm club of the parent Brooklyn Dodgers, have won 21 of their last 28 games. They lead in their best-of-seven series with Columbus two games to one.

The big blow which clinched the victory for the Royals came in the fourth inning when shortstop Bobby Morgan clouted a home run with two on.

Sorry, Mr. Irvin, But Boucher Begs to Differ

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(CP)—Pardon, Mr. Irvin, but Mr. Boucher begs to differ.

Manager Frank Boucher of New York Rangers takes issue with the desire of Dick Irvin, Montreal Canadiens' senior, to play the scramble-type hockey being played at present.

Said the affable Boucher, who was the Lady Byng trophy for gentlemanly play so many times they finally gave the cup to him: "It would devalue the game. The idea would be to get out of the arena."

Boucher expressed doubts that the Habitant coach will continue with his plan to permit only three of his Canadiens to cross the contrived red line into the opposing team's half of the rink.

Irvin tried the new style out at the Canadiens' Hyacinthe, Que. training camp and it was reported onlookers as well as the coach were impressed.

"That style might have some success in the first 35 years of the season but then everybody would catch on and the Canadiens wouldn't have a chance," said Boucher who has tried a few new tricks in his 27 years of professional hockey.

Irvin's outside there is nothing new in Irvin's idea. In fact, he says, it would be only a return to the type of hockey GREATEST GRIDDER to enter Albert from below the border, in the eyes of many, is Keith Spahn, starry Calgary Stampeder quarterback. Here he boots a long one in practice.

Say It Isn't So Men, Just Say It Isn't So!

Say it isn't so gentlemen, say it isn't so!

It appears that a movement is on foot to put the Junior Hockey league into the Arena for Saturday afternoon fixtures, in addition to those likely to be played on Wednesday and other nights.

All well and good, if the league heads want to give Saturday a whirl. However, at a meeting held Wednesday to discuss possible ways and means of dressing up the show, thereby making it more attractive to the public, it was suggested that the making of four teams in the circuit take into themselves a young lady to serve in a sort of dual honorary captain-coach leader role.

The young lady would, if the scheme is followed through, be topped out in the appropriate club colors, after which it would be one of her special tasks to lead her team onto the ice at the start of each game.

This was just one of a number of ideas, many of them put forth by Earl Samis, Maple Leaf bigwig, for sprucing up the action at the box office. Several of the others had real merit.

But this one, gentlemen . . . the part about the gala leading the teams onto the ice, we mean? Come, come.

Puck Arena Front

All is quiet on the newly-proposed arena front today, according to J. A. (Jim) Christensen, chairman of the committee.

The last effort of the group of businessmen behind the movement was to confer with city Council with a view to purchasing property.

The council is expected to be held in the near future.

"We can't move until we get our answer from City Council," Christensen stated Wednesday night.

played before power plays became the vogue late in the 1930's.

Boucher, who centered the famous line which included the immortal Ben and Bill Cook, remembered that in the old days defense men rarely came forward of center ice—but there was no rule against them doing so.

"We can't put restrictive rules on the game," said Boucher.

Of the grey-haired Canadian, he said, "The proposed rules that I'm in effect in the National Hockey League will be two years. Boucher opined: 'They won't get them through in Irvin's or in my lifetime.'"

Boudreau's Indians Just a Prayer Away From 1st Pennant in 28 Years

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(CP)—The dizzy whirl in the red-hot American League race continued at breakneck speed Wednesday with the surging Cleveland Indians a scant two victories away from their first pennant in 28 years.

Lou Boudreau's irresistible triesteamers scalped the Chicago White Sox 3-2 yesterday, after measuring them 11-0 the night before. One more Cleveland victory, no matter how the second-place Boston and New York clubs fare, will ensure at least a tie.

Both the Red Sox and the Yankees remained in threatening position, even though the threat was vanishing.

The Sox beat Washington 5-1 and the world champion New York Yankees vanquished Philadelphia Athletics 4-2. Both are two games off the pace.

The homeing bats of Joe Gordon and Ken Keltner, who drove in all the Tribe's runs, furnished the clutch for the Indians' 10th victory. It was the Indians' 18th victory in the last 21 starts.

Gordon batted in three tallies with a home run and a double. Keltner also hammered a homer and two-bagger and sent two mates across the plate.

Bob Feller, although not as effective as in recent outings, went the route to register his 19th triumph of the season. Thus David Hubert, who is scheduled to work in the season's final next Sunday, may capture 20 victories for his sixth straight season.

Feller, showing the effects of working with only two days of rest, proved no puzzle to the White Sox. He was tagged for 10 hits and gave up three walks. He struck out three.

When the Tribe finally struck in the sixth inning it came with the speed and audaciousness of a cyclone. With one away, Lou Boudreau walked. Then Gordon and Keltner exploded their home runs to put the Tribe ahead, 3-2. It was No. 12 for Gordon and No. 30 for Keltner.

At Boston, Ellis Kinder worked hard through a dizzy 13-inning to keep alive the Boston Red Sox' dim mathematical chance. In and out of more trouble than a tipsy high wire artist, Kinder managed to salvage his 10th victory of the campaign.

A pair of rookies, Bob Porterfield and Hank Bauer, kept the pennant light gleaming faintly in the window for the Yankees.

All but ready to concede the American League flag after Tuesday's trouncing by the Athletics, Bucky Harris' New York crew bounced back behind Porterfield's steady 10-hit pitching and a towering three-run homer by Bauer.

Before the game, Harris declared he had a hunch the Yankees would win their four remaining games and he shook up his batting order in an effort to inject a little more speed and punch.

Bauer, just up from Kansas City, was installed in left field in place of Johnny Lindell and it proved to be a stroke of genius on the manager's part.

Hal Newhouse chalked up his fourth shutout season in five years as Detroit Tigers beat St. Louis Browns 4-0 on his sixth pitching.

Newhouse is slated for one more start this year, in a crucial series for the Indians—at Cleveland.

Over in the National League, where the Boston Braves have already secured up the pennant, they suffered a stunning blow for the forthcoming World Series in losing the services of Jeff Heath, hard-hitting outfielder.

The blow came in a 4-3 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers when Heath broke his left leg sliding home. The bulky outfielder, a native of Fort Worth, Tex., was batting at a .310 clip and had batted 20 homers.

Johnny Sain went the route for the Braves and allowed seven hits in gaining his third victory of the year against 13 defeats.

Cincinnati Reds routed rookie Warren Hacker with a four-run blast in the first inning to win their battle of the league basement from the Chicago Cubs, 5-3.

Carr to Coach

CALGARY, Sept. 30.—(CP)—Lorne Carr, former National Hockey League star, has been re-appointed coach of Calgary Buffaloes in the newly-organized Western Canada Junior Hockey League. It was announced Tuesday. The club wound up in the second place behind Lethbridge Native Sons in the Southern Alberta junior circuit last season.

Jack Frost Arrives With Usual Bang

By Bea Thrifty

BRITTEER... it's out with the wools for this girl. And speaking of the cold, Jack Frost arrived in full glory last night, putting somewhat of a climp in a lot of things.

Biggest blow fell on the amazing product in the fresh fruit orchard. Edmonton and district people have had barrels of success with grapes, crabapples, plums, even a few pears... and of course apples.

We're not exactly in the heart of the banana belt but things are looking up.

Edith Reynolds Becomes Bride

By Alice Brooks

Bride of the United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding recently when Edith Reynolds Allen, 35, bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds of Edmonton, became the bride of David Rodrick, 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hinchey of Edmonton.

The ceremony followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride and groom were surrounded by a large number of guests.

The bride wore a gown of grey and white, with a wide collar and long sleeves. The groom wore a suit of grey and white, with a white shirt and tie.

The wedding was a simple affair, with no music or flowers. The bride and groom were married by Rev. H. H. Hinchey.

WHY GROW OLD Books Good Companions Grow Through Years

By Josephine Lowman

There is one friend who never deserts you, who is always available for lonely hours, who encourages when you need it, inspires when you require it, or makes you laugh and forget your troubles when you are low!

This friend is teacher and companion, brother and sister, father and mother, all in one. He does not demand anything from you and is not sensitive, but only asks a little of your time. I am speaking of a good book, or many books.

Those who are avid readers will know what I mean. Some persons are, by nature, more susceptible to the reading habit than others, but everyone can be trained in childhood to love books. At least in some extent. We have books in our library that are truly old friends. Some we have read many times, but most we have for the excitement and inspiration between their covers.

Our children's shelves are filled with books we have brought them from different trips, and in certain places of honor, rest those they love best and have read most often.

If you have in need you can never be lonely and some of the best educated people I know are not college graduates but are tireless readers. At your elbow in your library you could find everything you need. The products of the best minds of all time, the philosophy, the wit, the history, the poetry, the novels, the biographies, and an endless amount of information, can be gathered together in volumes in your bookcase waiting for the adventure of discovery.

Poor kid! She thinks he's got a crush on her! What will the judge of the Kellogg's Corn Flakes say?

Again in 1948, 4 out of 5 vote Kellogg's FIRST FOR FLAVOUR!

You don't need to see independent research reports to know why your family goes for Kellogg's Corn Flakes. Just look at the record—again, 4 out of 5 chose Kellogg's Corn Flakes first for flavour. It's not just a package of Kellogg's Corn Flakes that's opened, under more than 100 million sales in 1947, made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Michigan, Canada.

Smart Freshies Keep Togs Neat

First lesson a freshman should learn is how to keep her new college clothes looking as spruce as they were the day she bought them. The failure to hang up clothes, to keep cuffs brushed and pressed and to allow rips and tears to go unattended make even the best togs look old before their time.

To give clothes the proper care, make it a rule to hang up outer garments as soon as you remove them. Note the wearing of garments as to give them a chance to air and give wrinkles a chance to come out.

It is a good idea to rotate togs trips to the cleaners at fairly regular intervals to avert the inconvenience of sending a large bundle of clothes at one time.

Don't yield to the temptation to press a stained dress for one more wearing because the heat from the iron may permanently set a stain. A well-equipped sewing box and a bottle of spotting fluid are two necessary aids to neatness. Use spotting fluid to whisk off simple stains and to put an otherwise clean garment back in action.

For further protection, have wool things mothproofed and outdoor winter sports clothes, such as ski suits, treated for water-resistance.

If winter woollens do get wet, hang them up to dry away from the direct heat of a radiator and avoid shrinkage or other damage to the fabric.

YOUR BABY AND MINE Cruel Unnatural Mother Ruins Life Of Children

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Here is a distressed aunt who wants to do a "duttering, screaming, destructive, thieving, fibbing, fighting, rebellious, nervous, affection-hungry, three and one-half year old boy."

"I want to do some good for this boy," writes Mrs. B.M.W. and as the mother of two I think I could, but it is pretty hard for me to give advice, in this case, and an impersonal adviser would be better.

"I became alarmed at the way the mother beats, curses, threatens and forces this child. She does the same thing to the baby of six months. She screams to high heaven that she doesn't know why the child deserves such a life of housework and children and worry."

"She rants about her life now and before she was married. She complains that her husband stays away from home more and more and that wouldn't be true. When he comes home she piles her hands on her head and her two little children into the car and away they go. She is so hard with her life with the children."

Her behavior is incredible. She acts like a child who wants her way and isn't getting it because the children thwart her, by being selfish. She hates her husband for depriving her of fun and caprice, but she is selfish and selfish.

As this department relates constantly, children need a wealth of affection, constant praise and faith to give them the strength to rise to the standards of conduct. Unfortunately, you can't help this mother in any way until she WANTS to be helped.

Our latest No. 65 "Way Out Children's Life" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin, 40 Front Street, W., Toronto, Ont. Please allow a week or ten days for delivery.

Apple Dishes Cooked to Perfection

AN APPLE A DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY... There's just one thing wrong with that time worn expression.

Why only ONE apple a day, when they're at their very best this time of year?

I drool at the very thought of those crisp, red apples that the Kiwanis club will be selling around the streets, come Saturday.

If you like your apples raw... and who doesn't... you can eat them just as they come from the orchard, or you can put them in salads or dressings. For instance, over tried a salad of sliced unpeeled red apples with shredded red cabbage, chopped dices and salad dressing. Diced peeled apples and raisins melted in cherry sauce make a colorful, tempting dessert.

As to cooked apples, there seems to be an endless number of ways in which they can be served. So... I'm trotting out all my favorite recipes for you.

APPLE CUSTARD PIE
2 cups milk; 2 cups unswetened applesauce; 3 eggs beaten; 1 cup sugar; 2 1/2 cups flour.

Blend and pour into ungreased shallow and bake in moderate oven. Makes two pies.

BAKED APPLE AND ORANGE COMPOTE
Peel and core four apples. Cut in halves crosswise and arrange in shallow baking dish. Top each half with a slice of orange.

Use three or four oranges, depending on size. Mix 1/2 cup sugar with 1 cup orange juice, 1/4 cup orange juice and three tablespoons butter.

Pour over the apples and oranges. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

BAKED APPLES
Select large, red skinned apples and remove cores. Pare one third of the way down from stem in the center of each apple place in a butter and one top brown sugar, flavored with cinnamon to taste.

Bake in a cup of water and brown sugar or corn syrup in a moderate oven for about 45 minutes.

This recipe for an inexpensive dessert can be varied by different fillings, such as brown sugar and cinnamon, dates or raisins. Try putting a marshmallow on top of each apple after baking to take them out of the oven.

Mmmmm, Good!

APPLE CRISP
4 or 5 cups apples; 2 cups lemon juice; 1/2 cup granulated sugar; 4 cups butter; 1/2 cup brown sugar; 1/2 cup bread flour; 1/2 cup cooking oil.

Pear apples and slice into baking dish.

Love Won't Do Says Rev. Lord

TORONTO, Sept. 30 (UPI)—Rev. Daniel A. Lord, Roman Catholic educator and editor from St. Louis, Mo., said last night the reason so many modern marriages fail is that some men and women marry solely for love.

"People in love are the worst possible ones to pick mates," he said.

Father Lord's formula for successful marriage comprised five elements: mind, money, manners and morals.

He said that the bad married husband who calls his wife a ball and chain, deserves one.

Some Helpful Tips

On Backwood Use

By William E. McKenney

In the past, when a player announced that he was playing club, it was assumed that he was also playing the four-trump trump suit convention.

Now, however, the Clubmaster system has adopted the Blackwood system convention. The Blackwood convention has many variations, but today we will discuss it in its simplest form.

The Blackwood convention does not require that you and your partner agree on a suit before the convention becomes effective. Also,

ANSWER—That is easy to understand, and in common fairness better, of course, to bid normally when possible.

When North jumps to three hearts over two diamonds, South knows that he has normal heart support. The bid of four no trump asks for aces, and North, with two aces, must withhold his hand, regardless of the heart holding.

South knows that the contract is perfectly safe at six, but if North happens to have two kings, it counts out for a grand slam.

Therefore, he bids five no trump, and again North's heart support is not a heart bid, but simply shows two kings. With two aces, and two kings, South can count 13 tricks and bids seven no trump.

Do not bid four no trump to pass for aces if your partner's response may put you in too high a contract. When you bid five no trump, you ask for kings, and the response is not a heart bid, but simply shows two kings. With two aces, and two kings, South can count 13 tricks and bids seven no trump.

Bigger Market Now Imperative

Bottlenecks have developed in the marketing facilities for western crude oil. The rapid increase in production rates at Lloydminster and Leduc have not been matched by a similar increase in the market for heavy crude oil. Until the cracking unit at the Edmonton refinery is completed, a large portion of the crude distillation unit goes on the market as heavy fractions similar to the oil produced in a crude state at Lloydminster.

Lloydminster crude is taken from 183 wells situated over a wide area on both sides of the Alberta-Saskatchewan border. Production in the Cretaceous sands situated under 2,000 feet below the surface. Much of the oil is produced by pump.

In a black mallee-like crust with an asphaltic base, delivery from the wellhead is by truck to refineries in the town of Lloydminster operated by Husky Oil and Refining Limited and Esso Refining Limited.

Husky is at present handling about 3,500 barrels per day while Esso takes around 750 barrels. Principal product from the oil to date has been railway bunker fuel.

Asphalt paving is a regular by-product of the refinery in operation. The crude distillation unit has taken natural gasoline, diesel fuel

Profit Taking Cancels Gains

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Grain futures failed to make much progress during today's trading. Trade session nervous at the start as grain gains some advance midway through the trading, but profit-taking canceled gains.

Wheat and most of the accountants' announcements made after Wednesday's session had been discounted in previous sessions. Some common and cash house buying, believed to have been against sales to the government, lifted prices for a time, and induced a little advance in futures. However, profit-taking canceled gains.

At the finish wheat was 1/4 higher than it was on Wednesday, but was unchanged to 1/2 lower; December 2 1/2-3/4, May 2 1/2-3/4, July 2 1/2-3/4.

When Imperial grain elevator refinery cracking unit is in operation the heavy fractions will be broken down into more gasoline and other light products, leaving the heavy market open to Lloydminster.

DIVERS, working in the Delaware River near Thorofair, N.J., came upon the bulk of a British ship, which had left England in 1750 for supplies for the Philadelphia Diet. Isabel O'Leary, secretary for the Philadelphia Diet, examines some of the salvaged relics.

Increased Offerings Ease Grain Prices

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—(CP)—A slightly easier tone was noted in oats and barley futures trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, with some increase in offerings.

American houses were credited with buying 10,000 bushels of wheat under weak demand here, but the buying side, with offerings light, was not in a position to make any American selling.

The United Kingdom was allocated 20,000 bushels of wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement. The bulk of the wheat for export to countries other than the United Kingdom—remained unchanged.

OATS: The market was quiet. The price of oats was 1/2 higher than it was on Wednesday, but was unchanged to 1/2 lower; December 2 1/2-3/4, May 2 1/2-3/4, July 2 1/2-3/4.

Balance in July Favors Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Canada had a $1,000,000 balance in international securities transactions during July, the Bureau of Statistics said Wednesday. It was the first sales balance in 12 months.

The balance was due principally to net sales of common and preference stocks and to sales of Canadian bond issues floated in Canada.

Market Displays Little Activity

Industrials Slightly Better; Golds and Base Metals Slip

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Trading slowed to almost a standstill as all groups were irregularly steady on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials fluctuated between narrow ranges, and showed little activity. Golds and base metals slipped after a firm opening. A handful of western oils held steady.

Papers slipped downward in the industrial group, but the board were confined to fractions. Utilities and stock advanced.
